

International Dialogues on current crisis tendencies in societal developments

The Institute for Interdisciplinary Gender Research and Diversity and the International Office invite you to join the online event “International Dialogues on current crisis tendencies in societal developments”, which brings together lecturers from four different countries and partner universities (Erasmus) to share their research on current crisis tendencies. The idea of the format is that the presenters firstly give a talk, then enter into a mutual dialogue and finally open the discussion to the audience. Students from all participating universities can join.

10. November 2021, 16 – 18 Uhr

Prof Dr Ia Iashvili,
Associate Prof
Tiflis State University

Socio-economic consequences of the policy of restricting population mobility for Georgian international migrants under the condition of COVID-19

Dr Eva Bermudas
University of Cádiz

COVID-19 and the reinforcement of gender roles in the labour market

Mutual Dialogue of Prof Iashvili & Dr Bermudas

11. November 2021, 16 – 18 Uhr

Dr Charles Puttergill,
University of Pretoria

Privilege, whiteness and inequality in the South African society

Prof Dr Ayca Polat
Kiel UAS

Anti-Muslim racism in German society

Mutual Dialogue of Dr Puttergill & Prof Polat

Organisers: Christine Boudin, International Office (christine.boudin@fh-kiel.de) & Prof Dr Britta Thege, Institute for Interdisciplinary Gender Research and Diversity (britta.thege@fh-kiel.de)